

Cultural development is sine qua non for economic growth: Farashuddin

DHAKA : Dhaka Ahsania Mission (DAM) launched its strategy plan 2015-2025 through a substantive discussion today at Ahsanullah University of Science and Technology (AUST), reports BSS.

Former governor of Bangladesh Bank Dr. Mohammed Farashuddin addressed the discussion as the chief guest with DAM President Kazi

Rafiqul Alam in the chair.

Farashuddin said cultural development is sine qua non for economic growth. Human nature and skill depend on his cultural instinct.

Expressing satisfaction over DAM's intervention, he opined that this strategy will show the path to reach its destination.

DAM President Rafiqul Alam said Dhaka Ahsania Mission has been continuing its intervention across the 46 districts in the country. The intervention includes almost all sectors of human's basic needs.

In the programme, high officials from different government and non-government organizations were present.
