Message

It gives me immense pleasure to know that East West University is organizing its 12th Convocation 2013. The graduates deserve our heartiest congratulations. Furthermore, I would like to convey my congratulations to them and to the proud parents, the dedicated faculty and management of East West University. Congratulations to all of you on this auspicious occasion; your hard work and dedication have made this occasion possible.

The present government has been making all-out effort to improving the quality of education and creating new scopes for higher education. I firmly believe that the graduates of today will pave the way for a better tomorrow. Their intelligence, innovation, integrity, moral and ethical values will motivate the people towards making Bangladesh a prosperous country.

I wish the Convocation a grand success.

Joi Bangla, Joi Bangabandhu
May Bangladesh Live Forever.
